USDA RURAL DEVELOPMENT ACCEPTING BUSINESS PROGRAM APPLICATIONS

Lincoln, Neb, October 10, 2003--Applications are being accepted for four business programs administered by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) Rural Development. The programs are designed to improve the business climate and opportunities within communities and to assist in business startup and developing sustainable business operations.

The Rural Business Enterprise Grant (RBEG) program supports the formation of small and emerging businesses in communities of less than 50,000 population. Eligible applicants include public bodies, non-profit organizations, and federally recognized Indian tribal groups. Grant funds are not provided directly to the business, rather funds are used for support services for business development, expansion or enhancement. Applications are due by close of business on January 9, 2004. Visit <http://www.rurdev.usda.gov/rbs/busp/rbeg.htm>.

The Rural Business Opportunity Grant (RBOG) program promotes sustainable economic development in rural communities of less than 50,000. Public bodies, nonprofit corporations, Indian tribes or qualifying cooperatives are eligible to apply. Grant dollars may pay the costs of providing economic planning for rural communities, technical assistance for rural businesses, or training for rural entrepreneurs or economic development officials. Applications are due by close of business on January 9, 2004. Visit www.rurdev.usda.gov/rbs/busp/rbog.htm.

The Intermediary Relending Program (IRP) provides for business development in communities with populations of fewer than 25,000. Loan funds are provided to an intermediary (borrower) who utilizes a revolving loan concept to provide loan funds to ultimate recipients (businesses). As the recipients repay their loans, the funds are relent to other qualifying eligible entities. The intermediary may be a private non-profit corporation, public agency, Indian group, or cooperative. Applications are accepted and reviewed quarterly. Deadlines are December 31, March 31, June 30 and September 30. Visit www.rurdev.usda.gov/rbs/busp/irp.htm.

The Rural Economic Development Loan and Grant (REDLG) program promotes rural economic development and job creation. Zero interest loans or grants are made at the discretion of the Administrator, to eligible Rural Utilities Service (RUS) financed electric and telephone borrowers. Loans generally provide business "gap" financing for job creation projects. Visit www.rurdev.usda.gov/rbs/busp/redl.htm for loan information. Grant dollars must establish a revolving loan fund. Initial projects are regulated, i.e., community development projects, business incubators by non-profit groups, facilities and equipment for education or medical care, etc. Loans made with relent funds may be used for any business or community development purpose per an approved scope of work. Applications are accepted and reviewed quarterly. Deadlines are November 30, February 28, May 31 and August 31. Visit www.rurdev.usda.gov/rbs/busp/redg.htm for grant information.
