

Together, we are energizing our communities.

Bolivar, Tennessee, is experiencing revitalization. USDA Rural Development Area Director Harriet Cannon paved the way for new opportunities by cross-marketing Business, Community Facilities and Water/Waste programs. Uniting community, government, and business leaders, she and her staff developed a comprehensive approach to preserving the community's rich history and developing a competitive economic environment. Cannon uses teamwork to deliver a better quality of life for her rural neighbors.
