USDA RURAL DEVELOPMENT ANNOUNCES FUNDING FOR CORINTH WATER SUPPLY CORPORATION

Grand Saline, Texas, August 28, 2003— Bryan Daniel, state director, Texas USDA Rural Development announces today that Corinth Water Supply Corporation received a $722,400 loan and a $200,000 grant through the agency's Rural Utilities Service Water and Waste Disposal Loan and Grant program. The effort is part of USDA's national program to help provide rural areas with safe, dependable water and modern sewage systems.

"One of the goals of USDA Rural Development is to provide water and wastewater treatment programs that target public health benefits and provide economic opportunities to America's rural communities," said Daniel. "Rural residents can utilize our programs to help provide essential public services that will enhance their quality of life."

The funds will be used for a new water well for the North Booster Station with a capacity of 75 gallons per minute which would match the capacity of the existing pressure tanks. The new well will also require a new chlorine disinfection system, and a new 30,000 gallon ground storage tank for Plant #1. It will also provide 60,000 gallons of ground storage for the entire western subdivision. The population of the area served is 583.

In Fiscal Year 2002, $91.7 million of loan and grant assistance was infused into 61 projects and 106,000 rural Texas households. USDA Rural Development's water and wastewater program is designed to bring fresh, clean drinking water and sanitary, environmentally sound sewage facilities to rural America's 53 million residents. Loans and grants are available to rural communities with fewer than 10,000 residents. Public bodies, corporations operated on a nonprofit basis, and Indian tribes, that are unable to obtain credit from other sources at reasonable rates and terms, are eligible for assistance.
