USDA RURAL DEVELOPMENT ANNOUNCES FUNDING FOR SUL ROSS STATE UNIVERSITY

ALPINE, TEXAS, June 28, 2004 – USDA Rural Development, State Director, Bryan Daniel, announced today that Sul Ross State University received a $150,000 Rural Business Enterprise Grant. USDA Rural Development is charged with assisting rural communities by administering programs targeted to strengthening the economy and infrastructure of rural areas.

“We are pleased to fund this project in Alpine,” said Daniel. “One of our goals is to provide access to credit for rural businesses that will bring new jobs to the area for local residents. We are proud that Rural Development programs play a role in President Bush’s plan to increase jobs which will continue the growth of the economy. This grant will help Alpine and the surrounding area to provide economic opportunities in Brewster County.”

USDA Rural Development funds will be used to facilitate the development of a small business incubator project.

Potential businesses in rural communities interested in the RBEG program must employ 50 or fewer new employees; have less than $1 million in projected gross revenue; have or will utilize technological innovations or commercialize new products that can be produced or manufactured in rural areas; or have new processes that can be used in such production. Public bodies and not-for-profit entities including Federally recognized Indian Tribes located in rural areas or in communities under 50,000 population are eligible. Priority is given to applicants from communities of 25,000 or less.

For more information regarding this and other USDA Rural Development programs and eligibility requirements, contact the Fort Stockton Local Office at 432-336-7585, Ext. 4.
